

Recommendation posted on the East Dulwich Forum

Re: Looking for an architect for a kitchen extension into side return.

Posted by James Merrington April 21, 10:47PM

I can heartily recommend Red Squirrel Architects based in Forest Hill. We are in the process of having our side return extended as well as knocking through x3 rooms and they have been fantastic throughout the whole process

They offer a full management option which is what we went for, which means they pretty much do everything including all dealings re party walls and the council. They also got x3 builder quotes and again manage the whole project. We move into our house on the 20th May after 15 weeks staying with friends and family and the main guy at their practice (Miles) will be the first round for dinner to say thanks as he has been so superb.